The Worthy Educator Press Releases CONNECT

WASHINGTON, DC (5/16/26) -The Worthy Educator, a mission-driven nonprofit community dedicated to mid-to-late career educators working to have impact and build legacies that inform and transform the future of education is proud to announce the publication of its fifth title, CONNECT: A High School-to-College Success Framework by Dr. Johanna S. David-Tramantano.

“This book is another example of the power of connection,” explains Walter McKenzie. “Johanna approached us interested in publishing the synthesis of her research on proven ways educators can best support high school students transitioning to college and then to adult life. Her academic workmanship, coupled with her wealth of experience in the field, as well as her perspective as a Mom of high schoolers, gives her unique credibility in this work.”

Dr. Johanna S. David-Tramantano is a career educator and educational leader whose work bridges research and practice to better support students during critical academic transitions. She brings nearly 25 years of experience as a teacher, coach, administrator & professor with a focus on literacy, executive functioning, & college readiness. Her work is expressly focused on college-bound students, but many of its implications can be applied to any way forward for young adults.

“It is such a joy to share the CONNECT Framework with this incredible community!” shares Tramantano. “I’m thrilled about the book launch and can’t wait for it to be in the hands of educators and students. The support throughout this process means the world! I’m grateful to be part of the Worthy Educator family!” Responding to the author’s enthusiasm, McKenzie replies with equally heartfelt excitement, “The honor is all ours to elevate and amplify this incredible educator.”

CONNECT: A High School-to-College Success Framework launches today in both digital eBook and trade-sized paperback formats. Full of current research and practical, ready-to-implement strategies, it is a handy guide educators will refer to again and again.
