The Worthy Educator Announces its Community Christmas Beach House Giveaway Drawing

WASHINGTON, DC (7/31/25) -The Worthy Educator, a mission-driven nonprofit community dedicated to mid-to-late career educators working to have impact and build legacies that inform and transform the future of education is proud to announce it's first-ever 2025 Christmas Beach House Giveaway.

"Eligible educators who belong to The Worthy Educator and participate in three or more activities by October 28, 2025 are automatically entered for the drawing," explains Walter McKenzie, founder and leader. "Their name is entered for every three activities in which they participate, up to a total of twelve activities total. In this way anyone can have their name entered up to four times in the drawing, to improve their odds of being selected."

The winner receives a free week's stay at a beach front property in Nags Head, North Carolina from December 21-28, 2025. The property comes with three bedrooms, two baths, top and bottom level decks, and a brand new walkway from the top deck down to the beach. The maximum occupancy at the beach house is six people, and the winner is welcome to invite five friends and family to accompany them for the week. Dogs are welcome (but dogs only, please). The winner and guests are responsible for their own transportation to and from the property, food and any other incidental costs during their stay.

"This privately-owned cottage is right on the beach in a secluded area of south Nags Head," McKenzie explains, "and was donated by a generous benefactor in support of The Worthy Educator and everything it is working to accomplish in the name of public education." The property is located within minutes of shopping, dining and sightseeing right off the beach road in the historic Outer Banks.

"This is not a fundraiser," McKenzie shares. "It's a way to reward engagement and promote the important work being done by Worthy Educators. It costs nothing to join us and there is no requirement to make any payment to be eligible for the drawing. It's our way of showing how much we value educators everywhere."

Further description of the beach house as well as rules, details and disclosures of the giveaway are posted at https://www.theworthyeducator.com/yuletide.
